THE PROSTATE CANCER CENTRE ANNOUNCES JEFF DAVISON AS NEW CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

July 11, 2022

The Prostate Cancer Centre is pleased to announce that former Calgary City Councillor, Jeff Davison has been appointed as Chief Executive Officer.

Jeff brings a wealth of expertise to this role, having served in a number of senior leadership capacities over the past decade across multiple sectors. Jeff is best known for his skills at connecting people through innovative collaborations, aligning teams to a greater vision, and developing strategic frameworks to scale operations and create opportunities. Having spent over twenty years with publicly traded companies in the energy and technology sectors, Jeff served as a Calgary City Councillor from 2017-2021.

“The Prostate Cancer Centre sits at the forefront of the most exciting expansion opportunities in a generation,” Davison commented. “Thanks to the efforts of the Board of Directors, staff, volunteers, partners and generous Albertans, the Prostate Cancer Centre is positioned to be a leading centre of excellence focused on men’s health. Together, we will drive cutting-edge cancer research, pre-habilitation programs and mental health initiatives to support the 1 in 6 men who will face prostate cancer in Alberta during their lifetime.”

Board Chair Keith Steeves commented, “We are excited and pleased to welcome Jeff to the Prostate Cancer Centre. His leadership skills in both the private and public sectors will be a great addition to our organization as we continue to expand and grow.”

The appointment of Jeff Davison follows a thorough recruitment process overseen by the Board of Directors using global recruitment company Boyden, which saw a wide variety of candidates vetted and interviewed.
