Message from Executive Director and Board Chair

From the moment men come through the doors of Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre, they are able to receive customized care all under one roof. Our rapid access model allows patients to quickly see urologists, have a biopsy, choose personalized care options with the help of experts, and access support programs both during and after treatment.

Our community plays a large part in the Centre's ability to provide care to our patients. The donations we receive from individuals, corporations, and third party events allow us to excel with our current programs and services and grow to better meet the needs of our patients. Our team of volunteers is another critical part of the success of the Centre. Their dedication to the Centre and to the patients they see has allowed us to flourish. Our volunteers provide knowledgeable, compassionate, and supportive listening to patients and families needing someone to talk to. The commitment and passion of the volunteers who staff our resource centre, information desk, clinics, and the MAN VAN™ is unparalleled.

We would like to thank the staff for the passion they bring to the Centre on a daily basis. Our team truly makes a difference in the lives of patients. The comradery and teamwork they exude is reflected in the amazing patient comments and testimonials we receive daily.

We would also like to thank our Board members for their unwavering commitment to the Centre. Their dedication is second to none.

We would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to departing Board Member Dr. Dean Ruether. He was the glue and visionary that forged our fantastic relationship with the Tom Baker Cancer Centre. He continues to speak about treatment decisions at our information sessions for newly diagnosed patients.

We welcomed three new Board Members this year. Nipa Chakravarti, General Manager of Information Technology at Inter Pipelines Ltd., David French, President, CEO, and Director at Rosehill Resources, Inc., and Mark Wilson, Vice President/Partner and General Manager at Hotel Arts Group. These Directors bring invaluable skill sets to our Board.

On behalf of our team, we proudly present Calgary Prostate Cancer Centre's 2018 Annual Report.

Our Purpose

OUR VISION

To have a healthy male population free of advanced prostate cancer.

OUR MISSION

We fight prostate cancer by delivering one-stop support to men and families through rapid access to personalized care, research, and education. We promote overall health and wellbeing, inspire hope, and reduce the impact of prostate cancer in our community.

OUR VALUES

Compassion, Respect, Integrity, Excellence, Accountability.

Prostate cancer is the leading form of cancer diagnosed in Canadian men. If diagnosed early, prostate cancer is now close to 100% treatable. Even when the disease is advanced, treatment can eradicate symptoms and prolong survival. Survival rates for prostate cancer have been improving for the last ten years, perhaps due to the importance that is placed on early detection.

2018 HIGHLIGHTS

- The introduction of a mental health stress test to our Men's Health program on the MAN VAN™.
- A world site for active surveillance for men with prostate cancer.
- The inaugural Women For Men's Health 'Gloves On Gala' raised $150,000.
- The completion of construction of the Bill Brooks and Spaner Family Men's Health Clinic.
- Introduction of a Bone Health Program for men undergoing hormone therapy.

RESEARCH HIGHLIGHTS

APCaRI

The APCaRI (Alberta Prostate Cancer Research Initiative) study has been successful in identifying biomarkers, which is promising for the development of a new and improved test to diagnose prostate cancer. Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre will enroll approximately 1,000 patients in the next few years to validate this test.

GURC

New in 2018: GURC (Genitourinary Research Consortium). This study will examine real life patterns of treatment and management of patients with advanced prostate cancer.

Research

The research department continues to be recognized as a top research facility in Canada for its quality of work and success in patient recruitment.

A total of ten research projects were conducted in 2018. These studies were primarily focused on basic science and clinical trials, looking at how to better diagnose and treat prostate cancer.

- Over 1,300 study patient visits occurred in 2018.
- 90 research patient visits each month.
- In the past 4 years, we have had over 98% success with patient retention in all studies.
- 65% of our research visits rely on donor financial support to conduct study activities.

Featured Clinics and Programs

Rapid Access Clinic 4: Access to support for Incontinence and Erectile Dysfunction

The Rapid Access Clinic 4 is a follow-up program for patients after surgical treatment for prostate cancer. Patients meet with a dedicated nurse every three months for the first year after treatment and annually after that. During these visits, the nurse will assess medical history, incontinence, bladder function, and sexual health. The nurse will also address any other concerns the patient may have. The nurse is able to refer patients to programs such as pelvic physiotherapy, intimacy classes, and surgical options for incontinence and erectile dysfunction. Specialized exercise programs may also be offered on an as-needed basis. The nurse then provides the patients' urologist with a one-page summary detailing the information discussed during the appointment. The nurse follows up with these patients for up to four years post-surgery, and is available to answer any questions or concerns the patients may have.

Rapid Access Clinic 4 is made possible thanks to our partnership with the generous Arthur J.E. Child Foundation.

Bone Health Education

The Bone Health Education program, launched in 2018, serves to educate patients currently receiving prostate cancer treatment. The program examines how prostate cancer treatments can lead to an increased risk of fracture and decreased bone mineral density. Patients in this program receive counselling on how to reduce their chances of having a fracture, review their calculated probability of having a fracture, and receive follow-up care done in collaboration with their family physician and urologist.

Biopsy Support and Aftercare

Men who have elevated PSA scores require further investigation and may be scheduled for a biopsy procedure through their urologist. At Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre, EFW Radiology is in-house twice a week to perform biopsies for these patients. Prostate biopsies are the most effective way to diagnose prostate cancer; however, they can cause men to feel anxious and uncertain. To ease those uncertainties, our volunteer program aims to provide support to men who have completed their procedure. Men are invited to sit on a comfortable lounge chair and chat with a volunteer who has been through the same process himself. Our volunteers provide a calm demeanor, offering patients refreshments and the opportunity to ask questions. Men can leave the Centre at any time post-biopsy but often stay to visit with these volunteers. Our goal is to turn what may seem like a daunting procedure into one that is made tolerable.

2018 OVERALL PROGRAM STATISTICS

■ Number of days to see a specialist:	13
■ Patients who attended our ADT Class:	223
■ Patients who had post-op visit:	416
■ Patients who had 3 month visit:	336
■ Patients that attended Life After Prostate Cancer Class:	343
■ Patients that accessed our exercise class:	648
■ Total patient visits to the Centre	12,000+

TESTIMONIALS

The volunteers at the Prostate Cancer Centre work closely with EFW Radiologists by providing an invaluable source of reassurance, comfort, and support to patients throughout the prostate biopsy process. EFW provides the medical expertise, and the PCC volunteers, who have been through the biopsy procedure themselves, share a snack, and a few minutes with each patient. They reassure them that they are not alone and that peer support is available. I look forward to continuing to work with this great group of men at the Prostate Cancer Centre.

DR. SUMMIT SAWHNEY MD, FRCPC
Staff Radiologist

I love my job because I feel I am truly making a difference in the life of each man I work with. Many of the men who visit me are upbeat and thrilled with their surgery results, but others are scared, depressed, and feel hopeless. Some of the men visit me wearing a damp or soaked incontinence pad, others with enormous concerns over their ability to have an erection.

My job is to bring hope and healing, and connect patients with the right professionals who can provide life-changing results. For patients requiring additional help, I am able to refer them free visits to a physiotherapist and psychologist, as well as couples workshops and intimacy classes. I love working with Dr. Lee, providing free education and injection clinics for men and their partners. He says it's amazing to watch a very nervous man leave the clinic with his partner and a huge smile.

CLINICAL MANAGER
Calgary Prostate Cancer Centre

Peer 2 Peer Group Facilitator: Keith Donaghy

Keith Donaghy considers himself a very fortunate man after his prostate cancer was caught and treated early almost thirteen years ago. Keith's father had prostate cancer, which led Keith to annually monitor his PSA levels. Upon noticing a modest increase in his PSA, Keith and his doctor sought the help of a specialist, which resulted in a cancer diagnosis and subsequent treatment.

When Keith reached his ten-year post-treatment anniversary date, he was in search of his next volunteer opportunity. One day he spotted the MAN VAN™ and thought it was time to see if Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre was accepting new volunteers. Once Keith completed a few MAN VAN™ clinics, he teamed up with a staff member from Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre to help pilot a monthly in-house, Peer 2 Peer Patient Group. With his background as a Registered Psychologist as well as his personal experience with prostate cancer, he was equipped with ample knowledge.

The Peer 2 Peer Group is comprised of a wonderful core group of volunteer survivors. Their commitment to support others has been the foundation of the group's success. Within this group, personal experiences and support are offered to newly diagnosed patients and their partners. Those who attend have an opportunity to talk to and learn from experienced and empathetic survivors. The positive feedback from attendees attests to the powerful and positive effects peer support can have for anyone coming to terms with their prostate cancer diagnosis. Those who thought they were facing the journey alone are put at ease when they can connect with other men who had the very same feelings and who are now living well as survivors.

The MAN VAN™

The most successful way to beat prostate cancer is to catch it in its early stages, when the disease is the most treatable. The problem is that many men do not make regular doctor visits a priority, unaware that a simple PSA (Prostate Specific Antigen) blood test can aid in early detection and potentially help save their lives.

This lack of awareness is the primary reason Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre created the MAN VAN™, Canada's only mobile PSA blood testing program. With support from our community partners, the MAN VAN™ has been able to travel to remote rural communities, spreading the word about the importance of early detection and men's health.

'Know Your Numbers'

In 2018, the 'Know Your Numbers' Men's Health Initiative reached new heights in popularity.

Over 2,700 men visited the MAN VAN™ for blood pressure, blood sugar, and waist circumference measurements. These tests are a few key health indicators that could make a major difference in a man's life.

Of those contacted 6 weeks after a MAN VAN™ visit:

- 46% followed up with a health care professional
- 28% made changes to their lifestyle to improve their health
- 10% improved diet
- 5% exercised more
- 3% improved both diet and exercise

MAN VAN™ HIGHLIGHTS

In 2018:

- Provided 6,924 PSA blood tests at 206 MAN VAN™ clinics
- 45 Volunteers and 1,300 volunteer hours
- 28 MAN VAN™ Clinical Staff

Since 2009:

- Over 44,000 men tested
- Over 1,250 clinics
- Travelled over 200,000 km to 125 different communities

SPONSOR HIGHLIGHT: AGAT LABORATORIES

AGAT Laboratories is a Canadian-based company that provides laboratory services world-wide. As an organization committed to supporting local communities, AGAT Labs joined Bayer Cropsience and Nutrien to become a presenting partner of the MAN VAN™ program in 2018, helping raise awareness about the importance of early prostate cancer detection and men's health.

What motivated AGAT Labs to support the MAN VAN™?

At AGAT Laboratories, we are strong believers in community initiatives that foster public awareness and science literacy. The very nature of our work revolves around the core idea of producing and distributing knowledge. We are committed to spreading awareness through science as it can help our local communities in many ways. As Canada's largest and most diversified laboratory network, it is necessary for us to lead by example in every community where AGAT exists.

Early detection saves lives. Prostate cancer is treatable if caught early so please do not delay your screening. Getting your free PSA (Prostate Specific Antigen) blood test at the MAN VAN™ is a quick, convenient, and reliable way to keep your health in check. It only takes 10 minutes but it could potentially save your life!

Gloves on Gala at Hotel Arts

Featured Fundraisers

Women for Men's Health | Gloves on Gala 2018

For 19 consecutive years, our very own board member and Calgary native, Bill Brooks led the charge on raising awareness and funds for prostate cancer with his annual fundraising initiative: The Bill Brooks Benefit. In the final year of the Benefit in 2017, with almost $9 million raised, Bill handed the reins of the event over to Women for Men's Health founder and Prostate Cancer Centre Board Member, Dr. Shelley Spaner. This led to the inception of the Gloves on Gala, which had the goal of raising funds to support a new Men's Health Clinic at Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre.

On February 2, 2018, 300 of Calgary's finest glitterati came out to Hotel Arts to take part in the inaugural event. The gala featured a live band, live and silent auctions, creative drink stations, and a decadent food menu.

A staggering $150,000 was raised from the event, which was a pivotal contribution resulting in what is now the Bill Brooks & Spaner Family Men's Health Clinic.

The event would not have been nearly as successful without the support of our presenting sponsor Hotel Arts and our other major sponsors: Mayfair Diagnostics, Willow Park Wines & Spirits, Delta, Hello Gorgeous, Southern Alberta Institute of Urology, and the Calgary Herald, to name a few.

Remington Charity Classic

The tournament organizers of the 2018 Remington Charity Classic Committee had originally forecasted that $400,000 would be raised for our Centre. When that number grew to $600,000 on the day of the event, we were left speechless. Despite the dreary economic outlook of 2018, Remington Classic reached new heights to raise a record-breaking amount of money in support of Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre.

The partnership between Remington Charity Classic golf tournament and Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre originally started in 2013 to help combat the effects of prostate cancer in our community. In the past 5 years, over 2.5 million dollars has been raised by the tournament. The funds raised directly support the Centre and stay in our city. This ensures that the one-stop services necessary to treat and assist men throughout their journey with prostate cancer will continue to be accessible to them.

The ten philanthropic and resilient men that make up the Remington Classic Committee all have their own personal connections with prostate cancer and as a result, are willing to champion the cause through both their actions and finances. The success of the tournament would not be possible without the support of each of the committee member's personal and business associates who either provide generous sponsorships and auction items, or participate in the golf tournament.

The 2018 Remington Charity Classic exceeded all of our expectations. We are so grateful for the dedication and hard work that each of the committee members continues to exhibit. Together we are making a difference to every man, every day.

REASONS TO 'KEEP IT IN CALGARY'

In Alberta, 1 in 6 men will be diagnosed with prostate cancer in their lifetime.

Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre is a made-in-Calgary organization that relies solely on donations received within our community. We are not a fundraising organization and do not have the resources to compete with national organizations.

In 2018, Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre had over 22,000 interactions with men and their families needing support.

Keep It In Calgary

The Keep It In Calgary campaign runs every November and aims to create awareness in the local community around the importance of early detection as well as encourage men to get checked. In 2018, we raised $100,000, which will allow us to continue supporting local men with prostate cancer by providing them with access to rapid diagnosis, treatment, aftercare, and patient education.

The second annual Keep It In Calgary campaign ran on social media for 45 days across Facebook and Instagram.

Donors

Donors are a crucial partner in helping Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre maintain its reputation for being a non-profit, world-class medical facility. As a revolutionary made-in-Calgary success story unique in North America, we rely on the generosity of our donors, sponsors, and third party events. In 2018, there were more than 22,000 visits by men and their families to access multiple programs and services provided by our Centre.

The generosity of donors helps ensure we can continue to build on our legacy by providing support services to men affected by prostate cancer in our community for years to come.

Featured Major Donor: Larry Thomson

My family and I lived in Fort McMurray for over 30 years, where my doctor suggested a simple test to track my PSA numbers. We had tracked these numbers for some time before I moved to Calgary in 2011. After several years of monitoring my PSA while at Preventous Collaborative Health, the numbers started to spike. Suddenly, it got a little more real. Doing nothing is always an option when you are just in monitoring mode. When things reach the point where you actually have to do something about it, it's a whole different story.

I was expecting a very prescriptive approach at Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre and it was nothing like that. Instead, it was "Here are your options, you're going to go to a session and they're going to explain everything." I thought, "That's novel." So that first part of the process was amazing because it's not something I ever expected. It takes a lot of the apprehension about treatment out of the picture. That's kind of when it gets real.

When you go in for a procedure, the support you receive at that point in time is absolutely amazing. I wasn't expecting that at all. The follow-up education for what life looks like after the operation is all a process. I was very surprised that it was as smooth and well-executed as it was.

I also had a tour of the research area, where all the data is collected from biopsies. That is an amazing wealth of data for research people to look at further ways of preventing or dealing with prostate cancer. I'm impressed with the whole system so far.

I don't think that many people understand how the Centre is funded, how it's an independent fundraising system. It's funny because once you've been through this, you start to say to people, 'go to your doctor.' The other part is, for the fortunate baby boomers who did well, there are so many opportunities to donate. You can donate on an annual basis, but there are also lots of legacy donations at the end of the journey that you can make, ensuring institutions like Calgary's Prostate Cancer Centre continue to thrive.

(Having prostate cancer) is a life-defining process. If you can leave a legacy, it makes it easier for other people to do the same thing. I felt pretty good at the end of the tunnel when I walked out, and I want other people to feel the same way. We've been fortunate in our lives, so we may as well pay it forward.

Larry Thomson

"We've been fortunate in our lives, so we may as well pay it forward."

In the future, we want everyone living with prostate cancer in Calgary and area to be able to say:

"I can enjoy life"

"I understand my treatment options, so I can make good decisions"

"I feel part of a community and I'm inspired to give something back"

"I was diagnosed early"

"I get the treatment, care, and aftercare I need that are best for my cancer and my life"

"I am secure in knowing my family will have a place to go if they need support"
